

First Hunt Of 2016!

Posted by Coin Magnet - 2016/03/06 11:50

It's a little tough getting in the water in the Midwest in March but I managed to find a lake that has been lowered for the season an a Ranger kind enough to let me detect the beach! I could stay over an hour or two unfortunately but I did manage to find a few and stretch my muscles.

This is the same beach I found the nice gold plated piece at last fall. Since then I was able to find a under water converted Tesoro Compadre and now I can't wait to get back here this summer and try it out. I bought it from Kenny House out in Missouri. He has found a lot of gold with it in the past few years but wants to get one of the new White's machines water to use this season.

Photo to follow.

http://www.beachhunting.net/home/images/fbfiles/images/fr_2903.jpg

=====